

Boulder Walks: Project staff participated in two Boulder Walks community walks that travelled through the project area. The public was generally supportive of the project goal of adding a separated pedestrian path along the Boulder Creek Path within the project area. At this time, only one separated pedestrian path option was proposed for the section from the Boulder Valley School District bridge to 13th Street, what is now the south path alignment; the public were generally supportive of this alignment, but also noted that they would likely not use the separated pedestrian path at night.
